

BOW ISLAND REVIEW.

VOL. 3. NO. 6

BOW ISLAND, ALBERTA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9th, 1912

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

THE CITY RESTAURANT

Has been opened under entirely new management.
Meals and Lunches at all hours.
Good Service Guaranteed
Bread 10c, a loaf, 3 for a quarter
Mrs. M. Cochran Proprietress
BOW ISLAND, ALTA.

PROWSE & LYONS
Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, Etc.
J. D. Lyons. J. H. Prowse
Bow Island every Tuesday.
TABER. ALTA.

J. W. HOPKINS
Registrar of Births, Marriages and Deaths.
BOW ISLAND ALBERTA

Dissolution of Partnership

Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore existing between Albert E. Ludtke and myself under the Firm name of The Bow Island Trading Company, General Merchants, is hereby dissolved. The business of the said firm name, The Bow Island Trading Company, will be paid off to the Bow Island Trading Company, and all debts owing to the former partnership are payable to the latter.

ALBERT E. LUDTKE
PAUL E. LUDTKE

Dated at Bow Island, this Twenty - Second day of January, A.D. 1912.
In presence of Ernest R. Kennedy.

CUT THIS OUT AND MAIL TO US

Southern Alberta Business College
Medicine Hat, Alberta
Gentlemen: Please send me particulars regarding your interest in:

Name
Mr., Miss or Mrs.

P.O.

Province

Business, Brightest and Best in the West. All business subjects. Re-
Particulars free. Write to-day.

Undertaking and

Embalming

The undersigned has taken over the undertaking and embalming business of A. G. Louis and is prepared to receive and execute immediately all orders entrusted to him.

E. A. NEVERS

Bow Island

Alta.

Social.

The boys members of the Itasca
Lodge are now arranging a supper party with their wives for the evening of the L.O.O.E. Lodge after their session on Wednesday evening. As the Returners are to be gained in the entertainment, the hostess may be asked for a very large amount of time and will, therefore, attend in full dress. We hope the girls will have there an ulterior motive connected with this enterprise of the boys. We hope the girls will little monetary assistance to carry through successfully. Brothers will congratulate the hostess on her ability. We may also add there will be no objection to any brother bringing a friend or two.

There will be Mass in the L.O.O.F.
on Sunday morning in connection with the Roman Catholic Church.

Village of Bow Island

PUBLIC NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given that any person or persons who have any property or rights in the Village of Bow Island will be prosecuted.

B. L. JAMIESON,
Secretary-treasurer.

Oil up. Oil up

We have just installed an oiling tank, large enough to place a whole set of working harness in.

Farmers and others who appreciate the benefit of well-oiled harness will, we know, gladly take advantage of this offer.

The tank is constructed in such a manner that the harness is completely soaked in the oil, thus prolonging its life indefinitely.

Our sole charge for this service is---

$1.50.

A. SWENNUMSON, Bow Island, Alta.

Rev. H. M. Henderson leaves Bow Island.

Rev. H. M. Henderson, a son of All Saints' Bow Island, has been invited by the congregation of All Saints' to the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Okotoks, and leaves to-day (Friday) to take over his new charge.

Rev. Rev. H. M. Henderson has been a resident of Bow Island now for two years, and during that time, in communion with the other residents, has seen many changes—mostly progressive, but with the added, with the progressive ones that have been. Coming here, with practically no congregation, he quickly adapted himself to the circumstances and then visited and devoted himself to his ministry, testing to the building of a church.

To an outsider this seemed an impossibility, but by some means or another the impossible was accomplished, and the congregation which was then here, being proceeded with. Not satisfied with this, Mr. Henderson decided that there was still more to be done, and with the views he was able to impress upon the congregation of All Saints' had the satisfaction of seeing a building erected which was fully in keeping with the high ideals of his side.

Outside of his ministry, he has erected many by his efforts a large church at Grassy Lake, and this week a stat is being made on one at Sunnyside.

Outside of his ministry, he has erected both the L.O.O.E. and A.P. & A. in which Lodge filled important positions, and his departure has naturally created a void.

Those who regretting his departure, they heartily join with his congregation in offering them their congratulations, and trust that in the new and larger field which is entering he may long enjoy good health to aid him in his labors.

North West Drilling Company Invest in

Bow Island.

Starkey is to be given strength by the North West Drilling Company, by which the latter become owners of three of the best lots on Broadway. It is the company's intention, we understand, to erect an hotel on one of the lots, and a larger hotel on the other being proceeded with to cope with the largely increased work which the company will have to undertake in Bow Island in the years in connection with the gas drilling operations.

The deal is somewhat significant from the fact that it gives one some idea of the work the company has still to do here in connection with the gas drilling operations.

The above mentioned buildings will be erected next to the lots purchased by the Gas Company, and upon which latter, we understand, will also erect in the spring an office and ware- house.

Maleb News.

Mr. Joseph Nell made a trip to town Monday.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Henry is much better.

B. F. Sewell made a trip to Wimbleton Tuesday for a load of lumber.

Rev. Nightingale has been engaged by R. Miford for the past two weeks.

Mr. J. Binning, G. R. Bowen and F. Henry were in Bow Island this week.

The country is certainly advancing. Quite a number of new schools are being taught.

Mr. Otto Gibson sang a solo at the Tom says Paul Tremblay is feeding his oxen National Stock Food so they are in thriving condition.

W. J. Cooper of Bow was through our vicinity on Tuesday looking for a house made up.

Chas. Reynar and J. Binning have been hauling the oats they bought from Mr. Howland.

Mr. Johnson left last week for Wimbleton. We trust he will come back to us soon, halé and hearty.

The sale of impounded animals on N.W. 1-9-30 was postponed from Feb. 5 to Monday next at 2 p.m.

T. Hart and S. Reynar were down exploring the Forty-mile coule but what was they were doing with a hay wack to.

The party at Mrs. H. Hansen's last Tuesday evening given in honor of Miss Nelson was a very enjoyable one, as everyone there enjoyed a good time.

Next Friday night a number of young people from Bow Island are coming out to attend the Library and Social Club meeting. There is to be a fine programme and a lunch served after the entertainment in their honor. There is to be an interesting debate also resolved that Alberta should have the "Dower Law." Everybody is to be invited to attend. You are sure to have a good time.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the library last Friday. The student, Mr. E. Hinckley was in the chair and Mrs. E. Congergood took up the scenes & platform. Mr. Hinckley was absent. There was a splendid programme, some of the numbers being a dialogue entitled "The back woods school." A debate followed that all seemed to be in favor of half a century's the native side of living. (In spite of the Spaniards) and some humorous songs by Mr. E. Tweedie, who is certainly a born comedian.

Mr. Hinckley made a business trip to Medicine Hat last week.

A number of young friends invaded the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hopkins last week, the event being to celebrate the birthday of their son Lloyd.

Miss Headings, who recently bought out the business of Donovan and McCrea, have rented the old tinsmith shop on Bell street belonging to R. H. Robertson, who has erected for their convenience a large addition to the rear of the building.

North Dakota Man Murdered

Moose Jaw, Feb. 5.—A young man was found early this morning to be another passenger on Canadian Pacific train No. 1 on its way east. The murderer then turned his revolver on himself with fatal results. At 4:30 the train stopped at Moose Jaw, the depot where the bodies were taken by the police and Dr. Brown, coroner.

According to the story of W. L. Hinckley who was an eye-witness of the transaction, the man, a young man, together with his brother Gustavus Hinckley had been to Medicine Hat to locate land and were returning to their home in Garrison, N.D. The murderer whose name is not yet known, came from the United States and it is believed his signature is impossible to read as writing shows that his destination was Campbellton, N.D. The man was an old man, thin faced and dressed in a dark suit and hat, apparently those of a working man. When west of Maple Creek he began to act in a queer way and took exception to a remark passed by the man who was driving the train. He then shot, but the man did not fall to shoot yet but "I'll fix you." The man and woman left the train at Maple Creek and nothing further happened until they reached the station of Crossfield. John G. Klundt and a man named George Morrison were then sitting in a seat together at the rear end of the car with their backs to the engine. The man selected then started the old man from his seat and just ahead of the two, pulled a 32 revolver out quickly, and shot Klundt, a perfect stranger to him, through the back of the head. He then turned the gun on himself and put a bullet into his brain.

There appeared to be no doubt that the murderer was crazy. An inquest will be held by Coroner Brown this morning at 8 o'clock.

Altarado

Mrs. Jameson Sundisted with Mrs. Parker this week.

Mr. Russell McPhail assumes that we will train this lad up as a rancher.

Mr. MacMillan started the Bow Island Head schoolhouse recently. She reports a pleasant evening.

The Sheets-Stinson outfit keeps on threshing. We all feel grateful to patron, Mr. Chinook for making this a possibility.

Mr. John Garrison writes that he is a little better now than when she first went to Ontario. That is no place for rheumatics.

Mr. H. McKenzie stayed over with Mr. Boyle while coming from Edmonton. Now what is the baseball campaign for next summer?

A dance and all round social will be given in honor of Rev. Krings. This is expected to be the best of the season.

The Rev. Krings has returned to Altarado for a few days visit. His musical voice and oratorical talent, coupled with his genial disposition, make him a welcome visitor at all times. He will conduct services at Doubleton Sunday next.

Mr. Harvey McKeen has just returned from Edmonton where he was a delegate to the provincial U. F. A. convention. He reports a pleasant time and a good meeting. He did not give a very lengthy report at the meeting of the local union last evening because of the fact that the central committee will have full details printed and mailed to the individual unions.

The Rev. Krings has returned to Altarado for a few days visit. His musical voice and oratorical talent, coupled with his genial disposition, make him a welcome visitor at all times. He will conduct services at Doubleton Sunday next.

At the U.F.A. meeting last evening the whole question of direct legislation was debated very thoroughly. Messrs. Charles Sullivan and Harvey McKeen argued in favor of the question and Rev. Krings in opposition. There was a very noisy debate at the meeting of the local union last evening because of the fact that the central committee will have full details printed and mailed to the individual unions.

At the U.F.A. meeting last evening the whole question of direct legislation was debated very thoroughly. Messrs. Charles Sullivan and Harvey McKeen argued in favor of the question and Rev. Krings in opposition. There was a very noisy debate at the meeting of the local union last evening because of the fact that the central committee will have full details printed and mailed to the individual unions.

20 Per Cent.

off all

.. HEATERS ..

Colp's Hardware Store
R. E. A. COLP, Proprietor.

Homesteaders Attention!

If you have or are about to prove up see us for loans on farm lands.

We have unlimited funds at our disposal for this purpose, at a normal rate of interest. Liberal advances made whilst loan is being put through.

E. C. LUDTKE LAND CO.

J.P., Notary Public and Financial Brokers.

1836 THE BANK OF 1911
British North America

76 Years in Business. Capital and Reserve Over $7,300,000.

Money advanced to finance your business.

Local and foreign Drafts bought and sold.

Notes discounted. Collections promptly made.

Letters of Credit, Money Orders and Telegraph Transfers issued, payable in all the leading Cities of the world.

BOW ISLAND BRANCH R. A. S. MACLAREN, Manager

BURDette BRANCH J. HOW, Acting-Manager

Beattie & Bratton

A CAR LOAD OF

Baled Hay

JUST ARRIVED FROM THE NORTH.

85c. a Bale

OFFICE

LETHBRIDGE AVE. (North End)

The American

He Entered London Society,
as He Had Made a Fortune

By BEATRICE GARDNER

Copyright by American Press Assoc.

"Mother," said Gladys Poindexter, daughter of Sir John and Lady Poindexter, "his effort to 'keep up' is wearing me out. The estate has so decreased that we should be living on £200 a year and we are spending £2,000."

"But, my dear, if we retrench we shall lose a social position that has been the family right for 300 years."

At the moment Lord Toppington came up.

Lord Toppington was a typical London swell. As he entered, seeing Gladys, he frowned. Her mother's arrival gave him the Marchioness of Bladsey—a turn back upon himself. He at once divined the cause.

Lord Toppington seated himself and said:

"Lady Poindexter, I read in the papers of a young American who has recently come to London with a desire to enter the social circle. He has applied to me to secure an entrance for him, and I have consented to do what I can to help him. He gives me a good account of his past under my management. I have put the names of yourself, Sir John, and your daughter on the list of guests."

"The Poindexters have never known any Americans," said my lady, with a smile.

"Now I would not suggest your doing so now," replied his lordship, "except he lowered his voice—"this fellow is a scoundrel."

"I am sure you mean that this will not be known."

"I can."

"Now, for day times, the amount you have given to Gladys hearing of it, she has great glee, pride and pleasure."

Lord Toppington took a bit of paper from his pocket and laid it on the desk.

"It is a paper from Sir John Poindexter. The paper was in his palm, and when he left it was in hers. It was a check."

George Springer was a very singular young man. He had an air of wealth which he did not understand.

When he began his career ten years before his appearance in London he started off hand-to-mouth by the application of his brain, which he had learned to do when he was a boy.

"I have a good education," he said, "but I have not had a good education."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

book gave her cause upon an item of £300 to the family credit that she could not account for. Her mother should have provided some means of payment, but she had failed to do so. Gladys demanded to know what the check was for. These were the last words at the end of the interview. Lady Poindexter confessed that the money had come indirectly from the Americans.

Had Gladys been indurated to suppose the discovery would have been extremely painful, but since she had been told to tell the team, much had been given to the mother's social contempt. The next day, Lady Poindexter gave the Marchioness of Bladsey—a turn back upon herself. He at once divined the cause.

Lord Toppington was a typical London swell. As he entered, seeing Gladys, he frowned. Her mother's arrival gave him the Marchioness of Bladsey—a turn back upon himself. He at once divined the cause.

Lord Toppington seated himself and said:

"Lady Poindexter, I read in the papers of a young American who has recently come to London with a desire to enter the social circle. He has applied to me to secure an entrance for him, and I have consented to do what I can to help him. He gives me a good account of his past under my management. I have put the names of yourself, Sir John, and your daughter on the list of guests."

"The Poindexters have never known any Americans," said my lady, with a smile.

"Now I would not suggest your doing so now," replied his lordship, "except he lowered his voice—"this fellow is a scoundrel."

"I am sure you mean that this will not be known."

"I can."

"Now, for day times, the amount you have given to Gladys hearing of it, she has great glee, pride and pleasure."

Lord Toppington took a bit of paper from his pocket and laid it on the desk.

"It is a paper from Sir John Poindexter. The paper was in his palm, and when he left it was in hers. It was a check."

George Springer was a very singular young man. He had an air of wealth which he did not understand.

When he began his career ten years before his appearance in London he started off hand-to-mouth by the application of his brain, which he had learned to do when he was a boy.

"I have a good education," he said, "but I have not had a good education."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

DEVICE FOR MAIL CARS.

Apparatus Automatically Delivers Package From a Moving Train.

A simple apparatus for delivering packages from a moving mail car on a moving train is shown in the accompanying engraving. The arrangement is such as to draw the article with the package or mail bag, as it is being placed adjacent to the track to receive the bag, and the apparatus acts as a guide to the mail car to break away to receive the details of the delivering apparatus.

Springer the discovery would have been extremely painful, but since she had been told to tell the team, much had been given to the mother's social contempt.

The next day, Lady Poindexter, the Marchioness of Bladsey—a turn back upon herself. He at once divined the cause.

Lord Toppington seated himself and said:

"Lady Poindexter, I read in the papers of a young American who has recently come to London with a desire to enter the social circle. He has applied to me to secure an entrance for him, and I have consented to do what I can to help him. He gives me a good account of his past under my management. I have put the names of yourself, Sir John, and your daughter on the list of guests."

"The Poindexters have never known any Americans," said my lady, with a smile.

"Now I would not suggest your doing so now," replied his lordship, "except he lowered his voice—"this fellow is a scoundrel."

"I am sure you mean that this will not be known."

"I can."

"Now, for day times, the amount you have given to Gladys hearing of it, she has great glee, pride and pleasure."

Lord Toppington took a bit of paper from his pocket and laid it on the desk.

"It is a paper from Sir John Poindexter. The paper was in his palm, and when he left it was in hers. It was a check."

George Springer was a very singular young man. He had an air of wealth which he did not understand.

When he began his career ten years before his appearance in London he started off hand-to-mouth by the application of his brain, which he had learned to do when he was a boy.

"I have a good education," he said, "but I have not had a good education."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."

"I have a good brain, but he is not a good brain."</

We Offer and Recommend the Purchase of Close-in Lots in

BOW ISLAND

The Gas City.

WORLD'S GREATEST NATURAL GAS FIELD

BOW ISLAND, ALBERTA, is located on the C. P. R., almost midway between Medicine Hat and Lethbridge. There are five wells at Bow Island that are now producing 61,365,000 cubic feet of natural gas every 24 hours—more than five times the present daily production of the Medicine Hat gas field. Medicine Hat, with its daily production of 11,000,000 cubic feet of gas, is second in the list of the world's natural gas fields. Bow Island is first, with the stupendous production of 61,365,000 cubic feet.

Natural gas has made Medicine Hat one of the most important of the Western Canada cities. To a large extent natural gas has been responsible for Medicine Hat's increase in population from 8,000 in 1925, to an estimated population of 10,000 in 1931.

Less than two years ago the town of Bow Island did not exist. Today Bow Island has a population of over 400, and presents to the eye of the visitor a scene of unusual activity and rapid development. What natural gas has done for Medicine Hat it will unquestionably do for Bow Island. But we look to see an even more rapid development at Bow Island than has taken place at Medicine Hat. Bow Island has all the natural resources which go to make an important city, but its most important asset is its unlimited supply of natural gas.

Bow Island is in the infancy of its development. It is a comparatively easy matter to forecast the maximum population which may of the new Western Canadian towns will have five, ten, or fifteen years hence, but who can foresee the development that will take place at Bow Island within even the next two or three years? It is inconceivable that, located as Bow Island is, in the greatest natural gas district in the world, Bow Island will not become an important manufacturing centre.

Present prices of the close-in Bow Island lots, which we are now, for the first time, offering to the public, are so very low that the early investor should realize a profit of from 200 to 1,000 per cent.

Mammoth Well Drilling Operations at Bow Island

It is authoritatively stated that the Canadian Pacific Railway will drill twenty gas wells at Bow Island—fifteen in addition to the five which are now producing more natural gas each day than any other district in the world. It is reported that $200,000.00 has been set aside for this purpose. It is not an easy matter to at once grasp the significance of such a gigantic undertaking. Five plants are being, or will be, installed at Bow Island in connection with the drilling of these wells. Each plant will require twenty carloads of material, so that in all about one hundred carloads of material will be shipped to Bow Island.

What effect the presence of these immense gas fields will have upon the future of Bow Island, time alone can tell, but it is inconceivable that such an immense reserve of strength will remain here simply to be piped away to distant towns and cities, when industries can be established immediately upon the natural gas at Bow Island.

Bow Island's cheap power is the lodestone that will draw manufac-

Bow Island Will Supply Natural Gas to Calgary

The following article dealing with the methods which the Gas Company will adopt in piping the gas from Bow Island to Calgary we take from the Calgary Herald. The immensity of the undertaking may be better grasped when it is remembered Calgary lies nearly 200 miles north of Bow Island.

"It is the intention of the company to lay a big main from Bow Island across to Lethbridge, then to Macleod, and thence northward as far as Calgary, taking in all intermediate towns and supplying all in these places at a cost which will be about one-quarter that of coal under present conditions.

The company, in which the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is understood to be interested, has obtained the right to lay its mains along the right-of-way of the railroad, and has further obtained all rights to supply gas to the company at all points where it may be required.

By the time the main has been completed to Calgary, some time next summer, it is estimated that the company will have at its disposal at Bow Island 300,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day. This quantity at 800 lbs. pressure will insure an abundant supply to Calgary and all intermediate points for years to come. In fact, from all present indications the supply of gas at Bow Island is unlimited.

Compared with the Hat.

The greatest pressure in the largest and best well at Medicine Hat is 600 lbs., while its capacity is 4,000,000 feet. The total capacity of all the wells at Medicine Hat is 11,000,000 feet.

The concern is not asking anything from any of the cities or towns excepting that they be permitted to supply gas therein. Even towns which have purchased municipal lighting plants have decided to go in for the natural gas, as they can use it in their own civic power houses at a cost not greater than one-quarter that of coal.

The work of constructing the main will be undertaken in eleven or twelve sections and thus the work will be carried on very speedily. The fact that the company has permission to lay its tubes along the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's right-of-way means one of the greatest obstacles has been overcome.

High Pressure Piping.

The work of constructing the main will be undertaken in eleven or twelve sections and thus the work will be carried on very speedily. The fact that the company has permission to lay its tubes along the Canadian

Railway Company's right-of-way means one of the greatest obstacles has been overcome.

Supply Unlimited.

It is the intention of the company to supply gas to every town in Southern Alberta that is within a possible distance of the Bow Island wells. The supply of gas is superabundant, and all that will be required will be mains to convey it to the centres of distribution. The company will continue to bore wells, and will have a number of these, sufficient to supply the whole system, held in reserve at all times so there will be no danger of the supply being cut off temporarily at any time."

Advantageous Location of Our Property

Our property, located as it is in the heart of Bow Island is in the direct line of the present growth of the town. Every lot is high, dry and slightly. Lethbridge and Central Avenue, each of which is 80 ft. wide, will be the future business streets of the town. The present traffic in and out of Bow Island, is through our property.

After a thorough investigation of the situation at Bow Island, the Grand Pacific Land Co., Ltd., acquired by purchase the lots which we are now, for the first time, offering to our clients and to the public. Representatives of our company spent considerable time in Bow Island in order to learn where the future city of Bow Island would be built.

A Comparison of Values

We offer 50-foot lots, excepting several corners, which are 60 and 65 foot lots.

Lots in the upper half of Block 31, fronting on Alexandra St., have been sold, or are being held, at $200 each. The lots in the upper half of Blocks 20 to 22, inclusive, have been sold, or are being held, at from $125 to $225 each. Various lots in Blocks 22 and 24 have been sold, or are being held, at $100 to $225 each. Lots in Blocks 10 to 17, inclusive, have been sold, or are being held, at from $200 to $1,000 each. But few of our lots are less than 50 x 120 feet, and we offer them at lower prices than a majority of the lots in other parts of the townsite (which have but 25-foot frontage) have been sold, or are being held.

That we control the situation, that our property is the logical business location for a city the size Bow Island is destined to become, and that the lots which we offer will shortly be in demand for building purposes, cannot be questioned.

Free Literature Coupon.

Grand Pacific Land Co. Ltd., 235 Somerset Block,

Winnipeg, Man.

Please send me by return mail full particulars regarding the sale of lots in Bow Island. It is understood that in receiving this information I am under no obligation to purchase.

Name.....

Address.....

GRAND PACIFIC LAND COMPANY, LTD.
243 SOMERSET BLOCK

Telephone Main 4497

WINNIPEG, MAN.

